

Pahau Downs

The Down-Under Farmstay

Culverden • New Zealand

This high quality self contained cottage is situated at Pahau Downs a sheep and beef farm near Culverden in the South Island of New Zealand. The farm is 5500 acres, mostly Hill country, which has 5000 breeding Romney sheep and 200 breeding Hereford cattle.

The cottage is superbly furnished to a very high standard so that any guest can feel totally relaxed. It is self-contained with modern amenities including a washing machine. Has a double bedroom and a second bedroom with two single beds, kitchen, bathroom with shower and a bath, separate sitting room with wood burner, and veranda.

You are able to go for a number of walks on the farm, as well as doing some local walks. A tour of the farm can also be organised.

Culverden is sixty minutes from Christchurch. Just off state Highway seven, which is the route to the West Coast over the Lewis Pass. It is ideally situated for a base for fishing locally, duck shooting or visiting Hanmer Springs, Kaikoura and Waipara. There are three golf courses Culverden, Amuri, and Hanmer. Skiing in winter and horse trekking is also available near-by.

Hanmer is an alpine village with hot springs and thermal baths. Waipara has several vineyards that are developing an international reputation for wines. Kaikoura is renowned for its whale watching activity.
